

LASER

SAFETY OFFICER

Purpose of the Laser Safety Officer course:

Nowadays, treatments with lasers are revolutionary and simultaneously are considered fascinating innovations.

Nevertheless, the innovative treatment methods of laser therapy include risks for both practitioners and their teams, as well as for the patients/customers, if fundamental technical, biological and physical information about the application and laser safety measures are not or insufficiently known.

Description of the Laser Safety Officer Course:

This is a one-day course (6 hours duration) with official certification as a Laser Safety Officer (LSO).

During the course, we prepare you for safely using lasers by giving you an in-depth understanding of laser physics and laser-tissue interaction. With examples, we clarify the need for safety precautions in the use of lasers in everyday practice in clinics, laboratories or beauty salons.

Additionally, we explain statutory regulations, demonstrate their implementation in practice and describe laser application fields.

Additional advantages of the Laser Safety Officer course:

1. Our laser safety courses meet the requirements of the trade associations for obtaining expertise as a Laser Safety Officer. They are officially recognized according to the guidelines of BGV B2 (orientated to EN 60825-1 and ANSI Z136.1) and State Radiation Protection Office.

2. After passing the written examination you receive the "Laser Safety Officer" certificate, which will be granted from the well-known University of Aachen, in Germany.

3. The course is approved from the Human Resource Development Authority of Cyprus (HRDA).

Also for those that meet the requirements of the Human Resource Development Authority of Cyprus (HRDA), sponsorship will be given.

Training Institute of the Laser Safety Officer Course:

AALZ Cyprus LTD is a research /training centre which is located in Nicosia – Cyprus, with the goal of developing laser science. It is a franchise of the AALZ (Aachen Laser Research Centre), a world-wide centre with very famous professors as partners.
